ROCHESTER, TROOPS

The New York City, Unable to Check

Syracuse to Aid.

30-MILE GALE IS BLOWING;
DYNAMITE TO BE USED

Residents Flee From Homes in Path of Flames and One Woman Goes Insane—Entire Streets in Peril of Destruction.

ROCHESTER, April 13.—Two conflagrations which have defied all efforts to control them are sweeping two districts of this city. A gale is blowing and aid has been sought from Syracuse and Buffalo. The militia, ordered out by Mayor Edgerton, is patrolling the fire districts. The loss up to 2 o'clock this afternoon was $1,000,000.

One girl is reported missing. She worked in the burned Palmer Building.

A woman went violently insane from fear, as her home was in the path of the flames. She was sent to a hospital.

Unless the gale, which is blowing at thirty or more miles an hour, soon subsides, the damage will be incalculable.

Syracuse and Buffalo are sending aid on fast trains.

It has been decided to dynamite several buildings on Sullivan street in an effort to check the fire.

The fire broke out in the Selden Building, a four-story structure at the corner of Gibbs and Main streets. That building is in ruins. The flames leaped from it to St. Peter's Church in Grove street, and then to the big Jewish synagogue, the B'nai B'rith Temple. St. Peter's was saved, but the temple is ruined.

Sweeps Unchecked.
Apartment houses in Grove street valued at $100,000 were swept away. Then the flames attacked a score or more of residences on that and adjoining streets.

Man Who Broke Into Broadway Saloon Nabbed and His Loot Recovered.

Within a half hour after the robbery of the saloon of Harry Snider at 420 North Broadway, the police had arrested the thief, recovered the plunder and had a confession from Charles Melman, alias "The Monk," alias "The Dude," that he and a friend, whose name he would not give, had stolen several hundred dollars' worth of whiskey and other liquors, as well as cigars and tobacco. Snider locked up his saloon at noon and went upstairs to his lunch. He was gone 15 minutes, and when he returned he found that someone had broken the padlock off the back door and had stolen a lot of his stock. He notified the police of the Angelica Street Station. The police searched the sheds in the vicinity and in one in the rear of 424 North Broadway found the stolen liquors and tobacco. Sgt. Hurst and Patrolmen McViney and McDonald hid in the shed. Ten minutes later Melman entered the shed and gathered up the plunder. He was arrested and taken to the Angelica Street Station, where Snider's padlock was found in his pocket. He confessed to the robbery. Snider formerly was a policeman, and it was to him that Kretschmar, who shot and killed Clarence M. Jones, brother of Police Commissioner Jones, surrendered after the murder. The Angelica street police now believe they have squared accounts with Snider by the quick arrest of Melman and the recovery of his property.

BROKERS FAIL
FOR $1,500,000
IN NEW YORK

Ennis & Stoppani Go Into Voluntary Bankruptcy,
Assets $400,000.

NEW YORK, April 13.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the United States District Court here today against the brokerage firm of Ennis & Stoppani, members of the Consolidated Stock Exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade.

The liabilities are alleged in the petition to be $1,500,000 and the assets $400,000. Lindsay Russell was appointed receiver.

Following the appointment of the receiver in the bankruptcy proceedings it was announced that Ennis and Stoppani had made a general assignment to Treadwell Cleveland.

The petitioning creditors in the bankruptcy proceedings were: Charles Sincere, with claims of $2500; Ethel B. Newton, with claims of $250; and Fred J. Ringley, $2395. It is alleged in the petition that the firm committed an act in bankruptcy in paying over certain amounts to preferred creditors and that property valued at $5000 had been illegally transferred.

Assignee Cleveland stated that he believed the assets were more than enough to meet the liabilities.

Ancillary Receiver in Chicago.
CHICAGO, April 13.—The American Trust and Savings Bank was today appointed ancillary receiver of Ennis & Stoppani by Judge Landis on petition of local creditors. The fact that a receiver had been appointed for the company's business in New York and that the firm is alleged to have made a number of preferential payments to creditors while insolvent were given as grounds for the ancillary receivership. Representatives of the receiver this afternoon took charge of the local assets of the company, representing $25,000.

LUMBER MAN IS SHOT ON WAY TO RECEIVER'S SALE

Attempt Made to Assassinate
Lynn S. Butler of Pine Bluff, Ark.

KNOWS HIS ASSAILANT

Says He Talked With Attempted Slayer and Another at Railroad Crossing.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PINE BLUFF, Ark., April 13.—Lynn S. Butler, 30 years old, former vice-president of the Leola Lumber Co., was shot and painfully wounded by a would-be assassin while at the Cotton Belt Railroad crossing in this city early this morning. He was waiting for a train to take him to Leola, where he was to have attended the sale of the assets of the lumber company, under orders from Federal Judge Trieber, who recently appointed C. S. Bacon of this city receiver, at the request of creditors of the concern.

Butler declares he knows who shot him, but he will not tell the police. One of the most prominent business men in this city is mentioned in connection with the affair. Butler was left on the ground after being shot and his assailant fled.

Butler says he purchased his ticket at the Cotton Belt depot early Monday evening, and, the crossing being near his home, he went there shortly after midnight to board the train, where it usually stops. Soon after he arrived, Butler says he saw two men walking toward him from a dark spot. When they came up to him he said he spoke to them, being intimately acquainted with both of them.

Pistol Pointed at Heart.

One of the men came nearer and asked him for a match, Butler says, and when he reached into his vest pocket for the match, the other man came up, quickly placed a pistol to his breast and fired. Seeing the weapon, Butler threw up his hands, and the bullet entered the right breast and passed through his shoulder, shattering the collar bone and shoulder.

Butler says the weapon was pointed directly at his heart, and that he had not hit the weapon he would have been instantly killed. Butler fell and both men disappeared in the darkness. Staggering and weak from loss of blood, Butler succeeded in reaching the powerhouse of the Citizens' Light and Transit Co. He could not get into the building owing to a small fence which surrounded the place. He cried pitifully for assistance, but the roar of machinery within drowned his cries.

Crawls to Friend's Home.

Butler crawled and revived at intervals, finally crawling to the home of Chad Trawick, a friend, several blocks away. He called for assistance, and Trawick came out and carried him into the house. A physician was called.

Butler persistently refuses to tell the name of his assailant. He declares that he talked with both men, recognized both of them, and is positive who shot him, but he gives no reason for withholding their names. He says he was asked by a man at the depot, while he was purchasing his ticket, where he was going. He told him Fordyce.

Butler sold his interests in the Leola Lumber Co. some months ago to Fred L. Dilley, former president of the Pine Bluff Trust Co.

The company was organized Feb. 5, 1907. E. L. Dilley was president; Butler, vice-president, and T. B. Floor, secretary and treasurer. The capital stock of the concern was $20,000. Dilley and Butler held 399 shares each and Floor two shares.

Later Dilley bought Butler's interest, and only a few weeks ago, at the request of the Simmons National Bank of this city, Chancellor John M. Elliott appointed Jo Nichol, cashier of that bank, receiver of the company.

The bank held a note of $10,000 signed by Dilley, as president, and declared that it was past due and unpaid. The appointment of a receiver for the same concern was made about the same time by Chancellor Curi at Hot Springs, at the request of creditors. Later Judge Trieber in the Federal Court took a hand and appointed C. S. Bacon of this city receiver.

The other receivers were discharged, and Bacon recognized. The sale of the property was ordered for today. Jo Nichol made a report while receiver that the assets of the concern are $24,500, with liabilities at $62,000.

"COL." ED BUTLER AMAZED AT HAWES' MAKING MILLION

"Col." Ed Butler got back to town the other day after an absence of several weeks. This is the story:

A friend called the ex-boss' attention to the Republican landslide.

"Uh-huh," grunted Butler. "Well, what do the boys think of Handsome Harry now? What kind of a leader do they think he is, eh?"

"Why, Colonel, Hawes wasn't in the campaign. He's been down in New Orleans making a million in gas."

"What? Wasn't he in the campaign, made a million?"

"The Colonel was moved beyond further utterance."

SELF AT HIS OWN TRIAL

Takes Stand as Witness and Conducts Examination as Attorney, Pleading Insanity to Charge of Forgery.

Louis O. Graves, negro graduate of Yale, furnished unusual entertainment in the Court of Criminal Correction Monday afternoon by the manner in which he conducted his own defense. He was charged with forging the name of Oron O. Scott of 817 Chestnut street to a check for $25, which he tried to have cashed at a downtown shoe store.

"With your Honor's permission I will represent myself," said Graves, who was recently discharged from the City Hospital, where he was taken after he had tried to kill himself with match heads in Central District Police Station.

Detectives Darby O'Brien, Daniel Garvey and Patrolman Loepker each in turn were cleverly cross-examined by Graves, and when the State had rested its case the defendant straightened in his chair, and, assuming a serious air, motioned toward the witness chair.

"Mr. Graves," said he, addressing himself, "take the stand."

Then in a dignified manner he stepped to the witness stand and, slowly seating himself, said to the stenographer: "Take this down, please."

The Judge and spectators became interested.

"Your name, please," said he, after the style of an old practitioner.

"Louis Graves," he replied, "and several aliases which the police have given me."

Convicted Twice of Crime.
"You're the defendant in this case?"

"Yes, sir."

"Were you ever convicted of any crime?"

"Yes, sir."

"Illinois and Missouri. I served two years in the Chester penitentiary and four years at Jefferson City."

"Were you ever in an insane asylum?"

"Five times. Once I was in the Asylum for the Criminal Insane."

"Did you ever try to commit suicide?"

"Five times."

Accidentally thrown together less than a year ago, their friendship ripened, and now they are engaged to marry.

KREISMANN TAKES SEAT AS MAYOR; HE

Inauguration Ceremony Takes Place in Flower-Filled House of Delegates Chamber.

NEW MAYOR OUTLINES HIS PLANS IN SHORT SPEECH

New City Executive Recommends That Committee From City Assembly Advise Him; Favors Waterworks Investigation.

Tears stood in Mayor Frederick H. Kreisemann's eyes as he took the oath of office in the flower-filled House of Delegates chamber just before noon Tuesday. The tears did not, like those of Jephth D. Howe, require a receptacle to catch them.

They were like those which retiring Mayor Wells, a few moments before, displayed at the farewell reception in the Mayor's office, and were of the dignified sort which denote deep emotion.

The tears turned to smiles when, at the close of the new Mayor's short inaugural address, a number of old men uttered a fervent "Amen" to his plea for Divine guidance, and when two little girls, wearing badges of the Fifteenth Ward Jewish Republican Club, presented him with a bouquet and blushing accepted his kisses.

The new Mayor, arm in arm with Mr. Wells, marched from the Mayor's office at 11:45 a. m. to the House chamber. There was loud cheering in the corridors and in the closely packed and fragrant auditorium.

The short march to the House chamber followed a reception in the Mayor's office.

Mr. Wells' eyes were suffused, and his voice was unsteady as, with his successor towering beside him, he spoke a few words to each of his official associates, and introduced the members of the Board of Public Improvements and other appointees whose terms last half-way through the new administration.

Flowers were piled high in the Mayor's office, the tributes of ward clubs to the new Mayor, and on the desks of the new members of the House of Delegates. John T. Soy's bouquet was the biggest received by any of the delegates. Beside a large floral horseshoe, the gift of the Second Ward Democrats, he had a large bunch of American Beauty roses, with the card of Ferd Warner, his predecessor, attached.

Negro Marching Club There.
A negro marching club, whose members carried brooms and mops as emblems of a desired "clean sweep," divided attention in the City Hall corridor with the Industrial School Band.

The Council and House, meeting shortly before noon, entered into joint session in the House chamber. Seats were reserved there for the wife and mother of the new Mayor, and for the incoming city officials.

Judge Hugo Muench was selected at Mr. Kreisemann's request, to administer the oath of office.

After the cheers which followed the administering of the oath had ceased, a brief inaugural address was delivered. John H. Gundlach, new President of the Council, presided at the 10th session. Jephth D. Howe and Circuit Attorney Jones sat together in the row of reserved seats.

Department, municipal bridge, grade crossings, parks, franchises, and the new charter.

The longest of these references was to grade crossings. "Steps should be taken at once," said the Mayor, "to abolish grade crossings by requiring the railroads to elevate or depress their tracks at all street crossings." Whether elevation or depression is advisable, he said, should be determined by the topography of the different localities and the probable cost. The railroads, he said, should pay the cost.

He recommended that the Assembly authorize the Mayor to appoint a committee of three engineers, to act in conjunction with the President of the Board of Public Improvements, in making a scientific investigation of existing conditions, and submit recommendations to the Mayor and Municipal Assembly.

No mention was made, in this connection, of the Tower Grove grade crossing bills, which Mayor Wells signed as one of the last acts of his administration. These require the depression of tracks at four points in the Tower Grove district.

The free bridge was spoken of as a work of manifest public benefit, which should be begun immediately and prosecuted with vigor to its completion. A short paragraph of commendation was given to the Deep Waterways Commission.

Investigation of Water Department conditions by the Assembly was urged, in view of the early necessity for enlargement of the waterworks system. Additional small parks were declared advisable. Adequate compensation for franchises, under proper restrictions to assure the city their ultimate control, was demanded.

Expenditures, the Mayor said, should be limited to the resources available, and should be used entirely in improving the city's institutions and increasing their efficiency. The charitable and reformatory institutions, he said, were

TURKISH TROOPS MUTINY; OCCUPY MINISTRY OF WAR

Revolution Flames Out in Constantinople in Concerted Action.

SURROUND PARLIAMENT

Soldiers Demand Dismissal of Grand Vizier and Minister of War.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) CONSTANTINOPLE, April 12.—Serious disturbances of a revolutionary character have broken out here. The situation is grave.

The mutinous troops are demonstrating against the Building of Parliament. Panic has seized the people of Constantinople and all the shops are being hurriedly closed.

The cabinet has resigned and their resignations have been accepted. It is reported that Kaimil Pasha, the former Grand Vizier, has been charged with the formation of a new Ministry.

FRANKFORT, April 12.—"Constantinople has been in full revolution since early this morning," declares the Constantinople correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung.

"Two battalions of troops quartered in the Ministry of War marched at dawn, headed by their officers, and proceeded via Divan and Jolu streets to the Mosque of St. Sophia, from which point they surrounded the Building of Parliament. They demand the dismissal of the Grand Vizier, the President of the Chamber and the Minister of War."

YENNA, April 12.—Startling rumors are current here to the effect that Constantinople is in the throes of a grave revolutionary movement. The information thus far received is meagre, but it is reported that several thousand mutinous troops have surrounded the building of Parliament and that the whole capital is in a state of dangerous excitement.

Disturbance Is Serious, Says London. LONDON, April 12.—The only news to reach London up to half-past 12 today of the situation at Constantinople was contained in a code message which set forth that serious disturbances of a revolutionary character had broken out and that the situation was grave. This message was accompanied here as fresh news of a dangerous upheaval.

Neither the Foreign Office, the Turkish Embassy nor the bank with Constantinople connections had any further information. It is known, however, that the situation has been seriously strained for several weeks, owing to the great bitterness between the Committee of Union and Progress and the Liberals. The Liberals resent the attempts of the committee to control public affairs.

Killing of Editor Brought Climax. The murder of Hassan Fehmi Efendi, editor of the Liberal newspaper, Serbest, on April 7, is thought here to have been the climax of this political feud. The editor was shot and killed by an unknown man as he was entering his office, and a Government official accompanying him was wounded. The Serbest had been carrying on a campaign against the Committee of Union and Progress; in other words, the young Turks.

Violent demonstrations, both inside Parliament and in the streets adjacent, followed the killing of the editor. The Grand Vizier and the President of the Chamber were obliged to harangue the crowds outside and assure them that justice would be done. The Chamber accepted an interpellation denouncing the crime as a political murder, and calling upon the Government to take the necessary steps to apprehend the assassin.

enlargement, and changes in management and control should have in view their removal from partisan politics, and the establishment of the merit system of appointments.

He expressed fear that revenue would not suffice to improve the institutions as rapidly as their needs demand, but said much could be done by proper retrenchment.

The new Charter, he said, should "enable the city to exercise every function essential to a proper administration of its domestic affairs."

In concluding, the Mayor promised that "no appointments shall be made based wholly upon partisan considerations; highest efficiency in public service, sterling integrity and good character will be the requisite qualifications in all appointments."

SCIENTIST EATS TOKEN OF BATTLE, SLAIN BY TRIBE

Dr. William Jones Was Preparing to Leave Interior of Philippines.

MANILA, April 12.—The party recently sent out by the Government to investigate the circumstances connected with the murder by Ilongote tribesmen of Dr. William Jones, a noted anthropologist, connected with the Columbian Museum in Chicago, has recovered the valuable collection made by the scientist during his two years' stay among the wild men of the interior. The specimens will be sent at once to the institution in Chicago.

Members of the party learned additional details of the tragic death of Dr. Jones. It appears that he had been warned that the trouble was in store for him and had started to leave the country, where he had been studying the natives at close range.

He returned to the headquarters of the Cagayan River to get boats in which to carry his collection down the river and unwittingly crossed the dead line that had been established by hostile Ilongotes.

Ate the Gage of War. He was met by a party of warriors who offered him a fish as a token of defiance in accordance with the tribal custom. Not expecting that he was accepting their challenge by so doing, he ate the fish, and was attacked immediately.

The warriors wounded him many times with their spears, but he managed to fight them off with his revolver until he reached a boat, in which he escaped.

Dr. Jones was so severely wounded that he died five hours later and his body was rescued from the river by friendly Ilongotes. A native servant was also attacked at the same time, but escaped unharmed, saving the scientist's revolver.

this office on Feb. 14 in succession to Kaimil Pasha.

Hilmi Pasha was formerly Minister of the Interior, and before holding this office he served as Inspector-General of Macedonia. Ali Riza Pasha is Minister of War and Marine and is Grand Master of Artillery.

These and the other changes in the Cabinet that took place in February showed the absolute control of the political situation by the Young Turks party, or Committee of Union and Progress, which virtually imposed on the Sultan a ministry of its own nominees.

It was the Young Turks party which directed the remarkable series of political last August, by which the Sultan gave Turkey a Constitution and a Parliament. The army at that time was in sympathy with the movement of the Young Turks.

No Attempt to Depose Sultan. The committee, on Feb. 14, publicly repudiated any intention to overthrow the Sultan or to install a military dictatorship, but the crisis and its outcome was then regarded as not promising well for the stability of the throne or the success of Parliamentary government. It has been a question how the moderate elements of the Empire would regard this assumption of absolute power by an irresponsible committee.

The Committee of Union and Progress consistently opposed Kaimil Pasha, Hilmi Pasha's predecessor. It suspected him of being too considerate of palace influences and complained of his slowness in conducting the negotiations with Austria-Hungary and Bulgaria.

On April 3, Kaimil Pasha issued a statement in which he denounced the Committee of Union and Progress, to whose machinations he attributed the vote of censure in the Turkish Parliament and the consequent downfall of his Cabinet.

The irresponsible interference of this committee, Kaimil declared, had neutralized the efforts of the Government and it permitted to continue would seriously endanger the future of the country.

Violent demonstrations, both inside Parliament and in the streets adjacent, followed the killing of the editor. The Grand Vizier and the President of the Chamber were obliged to harangue the crowds outside and assure them that justice would be done. The Chamber accepted an interpellation denouncing the crime as a political murder, and calling upon the Government to take the necessary steps to apprehend the assassin.

ERNST DENIES HE OBJECTED TO HIS DAUGHTER-IN-LAW

Defendant in Alienation Suit Says He Never Wished for Separation.

Engelbert Ernst of 2729 Blair avenue, whose daughter-in-law is suing him and his wife in Judge McQuillan's court for $20,000, alleging "alienation of the affections of her husband, Otto Ernst, raised his hands in protest when one of the witnesses for the plaintiff testified Tuesday morning that the elder Ernst is worth $50,000.

Mr. Ernst took the stand and declared that if all his debts were paid he would not have more than $15,000 or $20,000 left.

Testimony Tuesday was largely in relation to the unsigned contract introduced in evidence Monday by Mrs. Hattie Ernst, the plaintiff.

According to the plaintiff, this paper was handed her to sign prior to her separation from Otto Ernst last September. It set forth that owing to the couple's diverging views, and their inability to agree and live happily together, they thereby agreed to separate, Mrs. Ernst to have charge of their one child, an infant, until it should reach the age of 12 years, when it was to be surrendered to the father.

Denies Drawing "Contract." Mrs. Ernst charged that Engelbert Ernst caused this agreement drawn and she refused to sign it.

Ernst testified that he had nothing to do with the so-called contract and did not know of its existence until after it was presented to his daughter-in-law.

Charles A. Powers, an attorney, testified that he drew up the agreement at the instance of Otto Ernst, the husband.

Engelbert Ernst was asked if the fact his family was Catholic and his daughter-in-law was a Protestant had anything to do with the trouble. He replied that that made no difference to him, and that he never had wished the young couple to separate.

Mrs. Engelbert Ernst also testified that she had no objection to her daughter-in-law and always had treated her well.

Reads Divorce Petition. The defendants' counsel read a copy of the divorce petition filed in Clayton last January by Mrs. Ernst. Mrs. Ernst alleged a series of quarrels between herself and husband. The Clayton Judge dismissed the case.

The alienation case was sent to the jury about noon.

Mrs. Hattie Ernst, with her baby, is living with her father, John F. Butters, in Wellston.

Whiskey for Colds

New Formula for Old Time Remedy Cured Thousands Here Last Winter.

The increased use of whiskey for colds is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following formula is wonderfully effective:

Mix two ounces of glycerine with eight ounces of good whiskey and add one-half ounce of Concentrated pine compound. Take a teaspoonful or a tablespoonful every four hours.

Any good drug store can supply these ingredients and will make the mixture or it can be mixed at home. Concentrated pine is a special pine product refined for medical use and comes only in half ounce bottles, each enclosed in a tin screw-top case, which is airtight to retain all the original strength of the fluid, but be sure it is labeled "Concentrated."

They are here for Wednesday's selling and we find them even more elegant and bewitching in weave, design and color than the samples indicated.

Among them will be found exquisite French Filet and Marquisette—dainty hand-printed novelties from St. Gall—finest French Batistes with silk embroidered dots, and hand-printed Persian stripes—finest of French Voiles—most of these fabrics are 46 inches wide. At no time in the past have we made an offer that approaches this in intrinsic worth and seasonableness.

From the Chicago Tribune. Emeralds: You seem to be acquainted with that shop girl who nodded to you?

Gwendolyn: Yes; I don't dare to snub her. She sold me most of the pomp-dour I'm wearing and she remembers it.

Success in His Library. From Harper's Weekly. Jinks: Harkins doesn't strike me as literary. Yet he declares that he never feels so comfortable as when he is snugly settled in his library.

Dentists Announce a Dinner. The St. Louis Dental Society will hold a good-fellowship meeting Tuesday evening at the Mercantile Club. Dinner will be served at 7 p. m. after which Dr. R. J. Hood of Sparta, Ill., will read a paper entitled, "The Illinois Plan."

Handsome High-class Imported Cotton Dress Fabrics at 59c

$1.25, $1.50 and $2.00 a yard values

Unquestionably the largest purchase of fine imported cotton dress fabrics ever received by a St. Louis store. They were bought expressly for the opening of our great Anniversary Sale, but were delayed in transit.

They are here for Wednesday's selling and we find them even more elegant and bewitching in weave, design and color than the samples indicated.

Among them will be found exquisite French Filet and Marquisette—dainty hand-printed novelties from St. Gall—finest French Batistes with silk embroidered dots, and hand-printed Persian stripes—finest of French Voiles—most of these fabrics are 46 inches wide. Patterns and colorings cannot be found outside this store.

At no time in the past have we made an offer that approaches this in intrinsic worth and seasonableness.

ENDERLOIN KING TELLS OF GRAFT IN LOS ANGELES

City Officials Named in Statements That Are Repeated to Grand Jury.

PAID FOR PROTECTION

Former Police Commissioner Declared to Have Been a Go-Between.

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—Testimony given by E. T. Earl, proprietor of the Los Angeles Evening Express, before the special grand jury called to investigate charges of protection of vice against former Mayor A. C. Harper and officials of his administration has been given out by Presiding Judge W. P. James of the Superior Court.

This testimony embodies the statements made by Nick Oswald, so-called "King of the Tenderloin," against former Mayor Harper, former Chief of Police Edward Kern and Thomas H. Broadhead, who resigned yesterday as Chief of Police.

Charges Give Details. The charges are specific and details are given of transactions in which these three former city officials are alleged to have received sums of money at intervals from Oswald in return for protection given to dens of vice in the tenderloin.

Statements of Oswald were obtained by Mr. Earl to be used by him in his defense of libel suits brought against him by former Mayor Harper for statements published in the Express. After the special grand jury was called by District Attorney Fredericks, Mr. Earl was called before it as a witness to make the statements known to the jury.

Police Commissioner Named. In the statement of Oswald, presented to the grand jury by Mr. Earl, besides the three officers mentioned, Samuel Schenck, a former Police Commissioner, but who resigned before the acts mentioned are alleged to have taken place, is implicated as a go-between, it being alleged that on numerous instances he took money from Oswald and delivered it to Harper, Kern and Broadhead.

Intimation is made that the payments were made to these three officials monthly for a considerable period of time. Oswald tells how the money was collected in the Red Light district, and also details alleged acts of the officials, construed to be in the nature of protection of dive keepers and gamblers.

The charges against former Mayor Harper caused Los Angeles to use its recall law for the first time, but the Mayor resigned before the recall election was held.

Representatives of the universities of Oxford, Glasgow, Manchester, Dublin, Leeds, Birmingham, London and Cambridge are on the program for discussion of Mr. Williams' paper.

At the last annual meeting of the British Institute of Journalists the paper upon the subject was read by Dr. Michael M. Badley, joint professor of the theory of education at Victoria University, Manchester.

Divided the Fourteenth. From the London Chronicle.

Most dismal of all men, off the stage, was Grimaldi, the clown, whose tomb in St. James' (Pentonville) is to be restored; and his father fathered him. He had that curious dread of the date which assails so many. The elder Grimaldi hated the 14th of the month, and when it was passed he regarded himself as safe until the next.

He was born, christened and married on the 14th of the month, and being inseparably with all three events we will pass his date on March 14, 1788.

DAUSMAN FAILS TO FIND A BONDSMAN AND IS IN JAIL

Real Estate Agent is Charged With Using Deed of Trust Wrongfully.

George Dausman spent Tuesday morning vainly telephoning to supposed friends to go to Police Headquarters and give bond for $800 for his release. None would come to his succor, and he was taken from the police holdover to the City Jail at noon.

Dausman is 36 years old and lives in the Cabanne district. He is a real estate agent on Chestnut street, and was arrested Monday on the complaint of Martin McHale, 5001 Shaw avenue, who charged him with having obtained $250 of his money on a deed of trust.

McHale told the police he had employed Dausman to make a loan for him, and turned over deeds to property worth $350 for that purpose. He is building near his home and sent a contractor to Dausman with a bill for $250, which Dausman was to pay out of the money he had borrowed for his client. Dausman told the contractor he had not borrowed any money on the deed of trust.

McHale made an investigation and found that Dausman had recorded the deed and had borrowed $250 on it.

GERMAN DECEIVES POLICE BY PRETENDING TO BE IRISH

Herman Arthel Takes Advantage of Angelica Street District Patrolmen.

Police of the Angelica Street District feel that their patriotism has been imposed upon.

A man about 75 years old was picked up unconscious at Broadway and Penrose street Monday afternoon. At the North End Dispensary after he was revived he gave his name in a decided German accent as Herman Arthel.

"What," exclaimed the policeman who had accompanied him. "You a German? Well, I'll be hanged."

Later the desk sergeant in charge of the station explained that under the name of Mike Cummings, Arthel was a nightly lodger at the station last winter.

"We thought he was an unfortunate old Turk," said the sergeant, "and the boys took an especial liking to him. We staked him to grub every morning and he made us believe he was an Irishman all the time. Now he turns around and says he's a German."

Arthel was taken to the City Hospital. He has no home.

INSANE PATIENTS ESCAPE FIRE

WOODWARD, Ok., April 13.—The third fire in a week at the Oklahoma State Insane Asylum at Fort Supply, 25 miles northwest of this city, last night destroyed the main hospital building. No lives were lost.

It was necessary to carry 56 of the 59 patients out of the building. Dr. E. G. Newel, superintendent, was the last person to leave. The hospital building, which was one story in height, was a landmark, having been erected when Sheridan and Custer had their headquarters at Fort Supply.

WATCH FOR HALSEY C. IVES

Presented by McKinley High School Art Students.

Will Schnyer, principal of the McKinley High School, presented, in behalf of the Art Students' Association, a gold watch to Halsey C. Ives at the Memorial Hall Monday afternoon.

The presentation was in honor of the retiring director's thirty-fifth anniversary of active life with the School of Fine Arts. He has been chosen director of the Municipal Art Museum of St. Louis.

"I continued the treatment, taking several more bottles, and in six weeks' time I felt like a new man, fully restored to health and strength. I gained 15 pounds while taking the Cooper's New Discovery. I cannot say enough in praise of Cooper's New Discovery—it brought new life to me."

The theory of L. T. Cooper is based upon common-sense reasoning. When asked recently why his medicine is so successful, he replied: "My New Discovery is successful because it corrects the stomach. My theory is that few can be sick if the digestive apparatus is working properly. It naturally follows that few can be well with a poor digestion. I know from experience that most of the tired-half-sick people that are so common nowadays have half-sick stomachs. Put the stomach in shape, and nature does the rest. The result is general good health. My medicine does this."

Cooper's New Discovery is a boon to stomach sufferers. It is sold by all druggists everywhere. A sample bottle mailed free upon request addressed The Cooper Medicine Company, Dayton, Ohio.

Had Not Enjoyed a Meal in Years.

Arkansas Farmer Follows Advice of Cooper, and Gains Fifteen Pounds in Few Weeks.

A. D. Henry, a prominent farmer living on Rural Route No. 5, Jonesboro, Ark., in a statement given for publication, tells a story that makes interesting reading for persons who suffer from stomach trouble. Mr. Henry says:

"For six years I was a chronic sufferer from stomach trouble. In all that time I did not eat a meal to enjoy it. No matter what I ate, it caused pain and distress. Food laid in a hard lump upon my stomach. I lost in flesh and strength, and was unable to find relief. I suffered night and day—was robbed of my sleep and rest, and arose in the morning as tired as when I went to bed. I was completely run down, and derived no benefit from any medicine I took."

"One day while in town my druggist recommended Cooper's New Discovery. I had noticed several articles in the newspapers regarding this man Cooper's work in the larger cities, and decided to give his medicine a trial. Its effect surprised me. Before I had taken all of the first bottle I felt wonderfully improved. The pain and distress had left me, my appetite was good, my bowels were moving regularly and naturally, and I began to sleep soundly at night."

Cooper's New Discovery is a boon to stomach sufferers. It is sold by all druggists everywhere. A sample bottle mailed free upon request addressed The Cooper Medicine Company, Dayton, Ohio.

United States Refused Type of Boats to Be Built.

NEW YORK, April 13.—John P. Holland of East Orange, inventor of submarine boats, stated last night that he had decided to accept the offer of Japan to construct submarines of the type he offered the United States Government two years ago.

The latter refused the new type, Mr. Holland said, and Japan would build a large number of fast model boats, which would have a speed of 30 knots an hour. Mr. Holland is to receive a royalty on each boat to be built.

POST-DISPATCH COMMITTEE ON PROTESTS MEET

Sidney Mueller, Head of Captain's Association of League, Presides.

DECISIONS ACCEPTED

Even Losing Teams Are Satisfied With Final Action on Games.

The executive committee of the Captains' Association of the Post-Dispatch Public School Baseball League met last night in the Post-Dispatch Building to hear protests in several of the games played last Saturday. Sidney Mueller, president of the association, was chairman of the meeting.

All protests are filed with the committee in accordance with parliamentary procedure. Mueller, who is 16 years old, is acquainted with the rules of meeting and insists upon their enforcement.

Mueller is captain of the Ashland team. So far, this team has won all its games in the North End division of the league. He has shown the same generalship in managing his team that he exercises in the deliberations of the committee.

Every fair afternoon since the 1909 season of the league opened he has called out all members of his team for practice and during recess at his school he has put his batteries through hard work. As a result the Ashland team is considered one of the most formidable organizations in the league.

The other members of the committee take great interest in deciding how the league is to be run and the games governed. Every decision of the committee is final and all the captains, even those who are losers as a result of the decisions, realize that the action of the committee is fair and impartial.

To Play Two Games Over.

In the following games protests were filed, but the committee decided there was no foundation for them and the scores were entered: Dozier 15, Clark 12; Wyman 15, Marquette 14; Dozier 10, Emerson 2; Pope 25, Mann 12; Panning 26, Fremont 4; Marshall 9, Elliot 0; Blow 11, Monroe 5.

The games between the Peabody and Jefferson and between the Froebel and Fremont were ordered to be played again. The game between the Blow and Monroe teams will be investigated further before the committee makes its decision. The games to be played again will be called Wednesday afternoon.

The schedule for next Saturday's games will be printed in Thursday's Post-Dispatch.

HEARST MEN DISCHARGED IN ROCKEFELLER LIBEL ACTION

Carvalho, Merrill and Clark Not Proved Responsible for "Peonage" Article.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The writ of habeas corpus, issued in behalf of S. S. Carvalho, Bradford Merrill and Edward H. Clark, officers of the Star company, publishers of the New York American and Evening Journal, in the action brought against them for criminal libel on complaint of John D. Rockefeller Jr., was upheld by Justice Gerard in the Supreme Court today, and the defendants were discharged.

Mr. Rockefeller had complained of the publication in the New York American of Dec. 17, 1908, of an article wrongly accusing him of having originated a peonage system to which the employees of a certain breakfast food company in Illinois were alleged to have been subjected.

In his opinion Justice Gerard characterizes the article as a gross and vicious libel, the writers and publishers of which should be brought to trial, but finds that no evidence exists to show that Messrs. Carvalho, Merrill and Clark had anything whatever to do with its writing or publication.

GEORGE S. L. MUDGE BURIED IN BELLEFONTAINE CEMETERY

Well-Known Member of Merchants' Exchange Formerly Associated With Francis Firm.

The funeral of the late George S. L. Mudge, one of the oldest and best-known members of the Merchants' Exchange, took place Tuesday afternoon from the family residence, 5084 A Morgan street, to Bellefontaine Cemetery. Mr. Mudge died Sunday afternoon, aged 61, of peritonitis. He had been in failing health for several months, but had been confined to his home but for a short time.

Mr. Mudge was a prominent figure in the grain business for many years, at one time the head of a house established by himself, and later associated with the D. R. Francis & Bro. Commission Co.

He served during the Civil War in the Confederate Army and was one of the original members of Battery A of St. Louis, organized in the railroad strike of 1878. He maintained a keen interest in that organization.

Mr. Mudge is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lulu Thilly Mudge, and three children, Frank, George and Louise.

"Why not?"

"He kept me waiting until all the restaurants were closed."

DRIVEN FROM HOME BY FIRE WEARING ONLY NIGHTCLOTHES

Pistol Shots Sounded Alarm in Forest Park Heights When House Burned.

Amid a fusillade of pistol shots, the primitive fire alarm used in Forest Park Heights, Lester Phillips, his wife and children fled from their burning residence, 7306 Etzel avenue, at 4:15 o'clock Tuesday morning. The only member of the family who left the house with any outer clothing on was Phillips, who managed to scramble into a pair of trousers.

His wife and children were clad only in their nightclothes, and shivered while standing ankle deep in the cold mud and watching their home burn to the ground for lack of fire protection.

Phillips lived over his grocery store. At 4 o'clock Tuesday morning his daughter, Fern, 12 years old, awoke screaming from smoke. Her screams aroused the family and they rushed from the house, which was then ablaze.

Edward Kircher, a neighbor, was awake and saw the flames and fired four shots from his revolver to arouse the neighborhood. Others woke up and began shooting also, until more than 30 shots had been fired.

Everyone in the community gathered about the house until it had burned to the ground, unable to do anything to stay the flames. Phillips places his loss at $100, with no insurance. The only thing saved was the pair of trousers he pulled on as he ran from the burning building. Cause, mice and matches.

MISSIONARY'S WIFE PRAISES CUTICURA

Daughter's Head Encrusted with Dandruff—Feared she Would Lose her Hair—Many Treatments were Futile—Baby had Milk-Crust.

BOTH CHILDREN CURED BY FAMOUS REMEDIES

"For several years my husband and I were living on the edge of the desert at an elevation of nearly five thousand feet. Every one in that high and dry atmosphere has more or less trouble with dandruff and my daughter's scalp became so encrusted with it that I was alarmed for fear she would lose all her hair, which was very heavy. After spending between five and six dollars for various remedies in desperation I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. After rubbing the Cuticura Ointment thoroughly into the roots of the hair, I gently combed the crust of dandruff free from the scalp, and then gave her head a thorough shampoo with the Cuticura Soap. This left the scalp beautifully clean and free from dandruff, and after the hair was dry, I again rubbed the Cuticura Ointment, this time sparingly, into the roots, and I am happy to say that the Cuticura Remedies were a complete success. My troubles with dandruff were over, although for a long time afterward I used the Cuticura Ointment as at first, after shampooing, which kept the scalp and roots of the hair moist. I have used successfully 'milk-crust' on baby's head, and have never found anything to equal them. You are at liberty to publish this letter, for I do sincerely believe that the Cuticura Remedies are a blessing to mankind. Mrs. J. A. Darling, 310 Fifth St., Carthage, Ohio, Jan. 20, 1908."

Cuticura Ointment is one of the most successful cures for itching, burning and scaly humors, including loss of hair, ever compounded. In proof of which a single anointing with it, preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed when necessary, by a mild dose of Cuticura Resolvent (liquid or pills) is often sufficient to afford immediate relief of itching, burning and scaly humors, eczema, irritations and inflammations, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure when all else fails.

Acute Pains

"I suffered much pain in my right arm—rheumatism—took two of the Anti-Pain Pills and the pain was gone. Gave a lady friend, suffering from pleurisy, two and they relieved the pain in her breast."

I. A. GFELL, Cincinnati, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills

relieve acute pains of any nature. They are equally effective in neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, locomotor ataxia, or the pain due to spinal trouble. Ladies who have periods of suffering find that they not only relieve their distress but their attacks become less severe, and after a time often disappear altogether.

PIMPLES

"I tried all kinds of blood remedies which failed to do me any good, but I have found the right thing at last. My face was full of pimples and blackheads. After taking Cascares they all left. I am continuing the use of them and recommending them to my friends. I feel fine when I rise in the morning. Hope to have a chance to recommend Cascares." Fred C. Witten, 76 Elm St., Newark, N. J.

HONEYMOON FOR "GOLDEN BRIDE" ON GOULD YACHT

Trip on Million Dollar Floating Palace Present to Miss Brown.

MILLION FROM PAPA

Baltimore Girl Will Become Wife of T. Suffern Tailor Wednesday.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 13.—"The Golden Bride" of the year will be Miss Harriet Brown, when she becomes the wife of T. Suffern Tailor of New York, tomorrow. It became known today that she and Mr. Tailor would spend their honeymoon aboard George J. Gould's million-dollar yacht, Atlanta, which literally is a floating palace. The use of the yacht is one of Gould's presents to the bride and bridegroom.

Already Miss Brown has received from her father, Gen. Alexander Brown, a check for one million dollars. From Oscar G. Murray, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, there came a wonderfully equipped touring car valued at $12,000. From relatives in New York has been sent a complete set of gold dinner ware and cut glass.

The presents already received almost fill the room under the ballroom and are by far the handsomest ever given in Baltimore. In addition to two motor cars, Miss Brown has received presents fit for a princess. The gifts from her parents include a chest containing all the flat silver, a large silver platter, a silver pitcher and all the household linen, beautifully embroidered.

Mr. Tailor's parents have also given a large check and seven fur rugs, white bear, leopard, tiger, all of great beauty and value. Other gifts include the following: From Mrs. William L. James, the bride's aunt, two handsome repoussé silver vegetable dishes; from Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, a silver breakfast service; from Mrs. Armstrong Smith of London, two heavy silver meat platters; from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lehr, a gold and pink enameled left buckle; from Rose Wynans, a large gold bag, and from Mr. and Mrs. Livingston Beekman of New York, two bar pins of diamonds and enamel.

A friend of Mr. Tailor in New York has sent a chain of diamonds nearly a yard in length and containing over 200 picked stones. One of the most beautiful presents is a small dressing table clock of gold and pink enamel, the face surrounded with diamonds. There are also a massive silver service from New York, and an exquisite set for the wedding table of scarlet leather mounted with gold, from Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Tailor of New York. A superb gold and silver inkstand has been sent by a friend from New York to go with this set.

Miss Brown has also received a pin of sapphires and diamonds and several electric touch bells of enamel and jewels. A dozen gold plates, a dozen gold dessert spoons, a large gold loving cup, beautifully wrought, lamps of rare design, tall silver vases, picture frames of gold and silver, several antique mirrors, a number of fine prints and engravings help to make up the several hundred presents.

Mr. Tailor's young son has sent a talking machine.

Dr. Donald Guthrie of the First Presbyterian Church will officiate, and the ballroom where the ceremony is to be celebrated will be transformed for the occasion and made to look like a church interior. The musicians' stand will represent a chancel and will be a mass of palms, lilies and blooming Annunciation lilies and azaleas. Ales will be formed of tall gilded standards of lilies, festooned with broad white satin ribbons. A pipe organ will also be placed in the room, on which the wedding march will be played.

Mrs. B. Howard Griswold Jr. will be her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. Edward de Peyer Livingston has been selected as Mr. Tailor's best man, with B. Howell Griswold Jr. and George May of Baltimore, George Gould, Robert Russell, Benjamin Nicoll, Ford Huntington, George Baker and Lytle Hull, all of New York, as ushers.

CLUB WILL SOLICIT FUNDS TO KEEP FOLK ON THE WALL

Officer Says Constable Overlooked Ex-Governor's Picture and Took Wells' and Hawes' Instead.

With Gov. Folk's picture again hanging on the wall, the Jefferson Club will try to keep itself from falling into the political scrap heap. Some of the club's directors, meeting in Attorney Guy Thompson's office Monday afternoon, decided to make an attempt to raise funds by subscription to keep the club alive.

Assistant Secretary Meier said Tuesday that the club had never displayed Folk's picture ever since Folk was president of the club, and had never possessed a picture of Thomas E. Mulvihill. The liquor dealer who tried to attach the portraits of Folk and Mulvihill for a $5 debt was obliged to take pictures of Mayor Wells and Harry B. Hawes instead. Meier said Tuesday that the constable's oversight must have been poor, as Folk's picture was on the wall of one of the rooms.

Chicago Would Forget Big Feet In Fling at St. Louis Hands; Camera Is Helping to Disprove the Slander

A few of the many pretty hands that are reaching for the $150 in prizes offered by the Post-Dispatch to induce St. Louis women to refute glove manufacturer's slander.

Women With Shapely Digits Are Urged by Friends to Enter the Post-Dispatch Contest.

CHICAGO papers are trying to hide the big feet of Windy City women behind attacks upon the hands of St. Louis women. The New Jersey glove manufacturer's campaign on the size of St. Louis hands is being emphasized by these papers. The Post-Dispatch is emphasizing a more obvious and interesting fact that St. Louis women possess the most beautiful hands in the world. This will be conclusively proven when the contest for $150 in prizes offered by the Post-Dispatch closes.

Many photographs of beautiful hands have been received. Every woman whose hand has won the admiration of her friends is being urged by her friends to send a photograph to this paper. Murillo, the photographer, will take pictures of beautiful hands that are to be entered in this contest and will make no charge.

In order that a hand may show to the best advantage it is important that a special photograph be taken. Any lady who wishes to enter the contest may get an order from the HAND CONTEST EDITOR of the Post-Dispatch upon Murillo for a photograph. Photographs taken by any photographer will be accepted.

The pictures will be submitted to a board of judges composed of artists thoroughly competent to pass upon them. The names of these judges will remain secret until the contest is closed. Their judgment will not only confer the prizes of $100, $25, $10 and $5, but will establish the right of the winners to claim that they possess the most beautiful hands in St. Louis.

Every photograph submitted should bear the owner's name and address clearly written upon its back and should be addressed to the HAND CONTEST EDITOR, Post-Dispatch. Capt. Ola W. Bell will be succeeded in barracks post.

$100 FOR THE PRETTIEST HAND

IT DOES NOT really matter whether the hands of St. Louis women are larger than the hands of any other women in the country or not, for St. Louis women have the prettiest hands. That is what the glove salespeople tell us. In order that the world may see the beautiful hands of St. Louis women, the Post-Dispatch has decided to open a contest. We want to collect photographs of the loveliest hands and offer One Hundred and Fifty Dollars in prizes for them.

To the lady possessing the most beautiful hand in St. Louis the Post-Dispatch will pay (IN GOLD) $100.00
To the lady whose hand is the SECOND choice of the judges the Post-Dispatch will pay (IN GOLD) 25.00
To the lady whose hand is the THIRD choice of the judges the Post-Dispatch will pay (IN GOLD) 15.00
To the lady whose hand is the FOURTH choice of the judges the Post-Dispatch will pay (IN GOLD) 10.00

Send the best photograph of your hand that you can obtain to the HAND CONTEST EDITOR, POST-DISPATCH. Write your name and address on the back of the photograph. The photographs will be submitted to a board of judges, which will include artists who are competent to pass upon the merits of the hands. The names of the judges will not be made public until the awards are made. The judges may require to see some of the hands when they have eliminated the less beautiful by examination of the photographs. If so, notices will be sent for a meeting at a suitable time and place. The Post-Dispatch has arranged with the Murillo Studio to take photographs of contestants free for those who want them.

FLEXNER SERUM SAVES 7 OUT OF 8 AT HOSPITAL

Only One Death at Institution in Eight Cases of Cerebro-Spinal Meningitis.

MANY CURES EFFECTED

Treatment Discovered at Rockefeller Institute Proves Its Value.

Of eight cases of cerebro-spinal meningitis treated at the City Hospital by the Flexner serum during the past three months, all have been cured save one, that of Joseph Demetri of 219 Plum street, who died Tuesday morning. Demetri, who was 18 years old, also had pneumonia, and the physicians declare that this was the immediate cause of his death. He was received at the Hospital April 3.

City Hospital physicians report remarkable success with the new serum treatment. Records for the fiscal year ending March 31 show seven complete recoveries. Since then two children have been discharged cured. Two sisters, Dolle and Helen Smith of 1002 North Twentieth street, 3 and 2 years old, who were received at the Hospital March 20, are recovering rapidly under the treatment.

Several Cases Cured. Lester Marce, 15 years old, was sent to his home at 535 South Seventh street, April 7, absolutely cured of the disease, all his faculties being perfect.

Martin Moskowitz, 4 years old, of 2009 O'Fallon street, was discharged April 6 cured of cerebro-spinal meningitis, though deafness had resulted.

Physicians say that this usually fatal malady, which is contagious, being contracted by breathing in the germ, is almost epidemic in St. Louis.

Until the recent discovery of the serum specific by Dr. Simon Flexner of the Rockefeller Institute, New York, patients who survived at all suffered in most instances some deformity or loss of normal faculties.

George Hilby, 15-year-old son of Mrs. Ella B. Hilby of 464 Delmar boulevard, who has been under treatment with the Flexner serum at his home for some time, was reported as being very low Tuesday morning, with physicians constantly in attendance.

LICENSE REFUSED TO SALOON NEAR A PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

After refusing to grant to Adolph Menzel a license to open a saloon at Page avenue and Sarah street, Tuesday, Excise Commissioner Caulfield said: "It would be well for the breweries to keep their saloons away from churches, schools and residence districts where it is plain that they are not wanted."

Father O. J. McDonald, pastor of St. Ann's Church, led the fight to prevent Menzel from obtaining a license because the proposed saloon would be within half a block of St. Ann's Parochial School.

It has been a long and hard-fought battle. Menzel twice attempted to obtain a license from Commissioner Mulvihill, and he renewed his application when Caulfield took the office.

In each case he had the signatures of a majority of the property owners in the block, and each time this was met by a remonstrance signed by all the others.

"I have discretionary powers as to granting licenses, even when there is a majority petition," said Commissioner Caulfield. "In this case I believe the opposition is well-grounded. Neither Menzel nor anyone else can get a license to run a saloon near that parochial school."

JESUITS RELINQUISH CONTROL OF ST. LOUIS UNIVERSITY

After having been under the control of the Society of Jesus for 90 years St. Louis University has been transferred to the directory of an advisory board composed mostly of laymen. Father John P. Frieden, S. J., president of the university, and Archbishop John J. Glennon are the only clergymen on the board. Several of its members are not Catholics. This is the first move of the sort in the history of Jesuit education in the United States.

The new board is composed of 25 members, of which Father Frieden is ex-officio president. The other members are: Charles E. Huttig, Richard C. Kerens, Charles W. Knapp, Paul Bakewell, Howard Benoit, William Frank Carter, Francis A. Drew, August Gehring, Breckinridge Jones, William J. Kinella, Jesse A. McDonald, Daniel C. Nugent, Theophile Papin, Amodeo V. Reymann, Edward S. Robert, August Schaffly, John Scullin, Festus J. Wade, David D. Walker, Edward J. Walsh, Julius S. Walsh, Rolla Wells and George W. Wilson.

The management of the school will come under the direct control of the new Advisory Board, the members of which are familiar with the educational as well as the business needs of the institution. The change in the policy of managing the affairs of the university will be immediate.

ENDOWMENT FUND OF $10,000 TO BE RAISED FOR SYMPHONY

An endowment fund of $10,000 will be created for the support of the St. Louis Symphony Society. This was decided at a meeting held at the Artists' Guild, Union boulevard and Kensington avenue, Monday night.

The fund will be raised among friends of the society each year for five years, and will be in charge of Charles E. Huttig, Hugo A. Koehler, Hanford Crawford and F. P. Crunden. Hanford Crawford was re-elected president by the unanimous vote of the 35 members present at the meeting. George D. Markham was elected vice-president. The secretary, treasurer and executive committee and the eight standing committees will be appointed by President Crawford in a few days.

Max Zach has been engaged as director for two years.

HOWE SURE HE'LL GET EASY MONEY FOR HIS GASOLINE

Has Enough for Chauffeur Now and Says He Knows Where There's More.

They gave Jephtha D. Howe that automobile, after all—a big four-cylinder American Motors touring car.

Having the car, Jep waved his magic wand and, presto, he materialized a chauffeur, a nice-looking young man about his own size, named Fred Sharpe. Thus equipped with all the comforts of a millionaire, the retired Republican leader went to his office "on the leather" Wednesday.

Each of the 26 members of the City Committee contributed $142.55 to make up the $4000 which was paid for the machine. Jephtha D. Howe, when Chairman Kiel made the presentation speech at the headquarters of the committee. But he soon dried his eyes and took his first ride to a downtown restaurant where he and Chairman Kiel were the guests of the committee at a dinner.

Stare of Money for Gasoline. The machine stood at the Sixth street entrance of the Commercial Building, where Howe has his office and all through the forenoon it attracted much attention from Republican workers who had been "tipped off" that it was to be an view there.

Jep was as happy as a child with a new red wagon. The prospect of the automobile being a drain on his financial resources didn't seem to worry him. "All I want is three hours every day to attend to my law business and I'll make more money than I can spend," he said when he was asked how he would find means to maintain the expensive car.

The new chauffeur was happy, too. "He looks like a good boss to me," he said. "You never have to ask him twice where he wants to go."

Katrine

By ELINOR MACARTNEY LANE Author of "Nancy Stair"

In this novel a new heroine has come into her own, the most beautiful and compelling figure that the author has given us. The romance opens amid historic surroundings in North Carolina, where Francis Ravenel meets Katrina and idyllic scenes pass before the reader among the roses of the South. The action changes to Paris and an atmosphere of art and intrigue, and again to New York, with the echoes of a great business battle in the background. It is a great romance that Mrs. Lane has presented, a man awakened to realities by a woman's power, but most of all the romance not only of a woman's triumph but of an all-conquering love.

THE NEW ADMINISTRATION.

With the inauguration of Mayor Kreismann today the Republican party comes into full responsibility for the administration of the municipal government with all of the local State officers in its hands. The Police Board is still Democratic, but its members will probably adjust their policy to the general will of the Governor. Not even the obstacle of an unmanageable and hostile House of Delegates, which hampered the Wells administration, stands in the way of the Republican administration. Every branch of the government is in political harmony. The situation offers an unexampled opportunity for public service and party triumph. A great deal of necessary public work was either well started or completed by the Wells administration. It cleared the water and constructed streets and sewers at a rate which placed St. Louis in the forefront of cities in point of public improvements. It added large acreage to the park system and supplemented the parks with well-selected playgrounds. Plans for a boulevard system are well under way. The free bridge is at least on the road to being built. St. Louis is on the railroad map, with a large part of the bridge arbitrary eliminated. Nearly all of the problems and obstructions to progress which vexed St. Louis before the Wells administration have been solved or are in process of solution.

There is much to be done, but the way has been blazed. With a new and greater city come greater opportunities and tasks. The expenditure of the millions voted for public improvements require honesty and efficiency. Additional terminal facilities are needed. Better urban transportation facilities will soon become an urgent necessity. The regulation of public utilities is yet to be accomplished. Continued progress in perfecting the city's equipment and in beautifying it calls for wise and efficient work.

If the new administration will meet its responsibilities with an eye single to the public welfare, if it shall lay aside personal and party considerations to promote public interests, it will earn public confidence and a continuance of power. Mr. Koeln, whose election was opposed by a large number of independent voters can easily demonstrate that he is worthy of his office, and that fears of his unfitness were unfounded. It will be a welcome demonstration.

The Post-Dispatch speaks popular support for Mayor Kreismann and his associates in all their good purposes and work. We shall be the first to recognize their worthy efforts as we shall be the first to criticize negligence, inefficiency or dishonesty.

It is easy to imagine the enthusiasm with which Freeholder Howe will enter into the work of preparing a city charter that will eliminate political bosses.

RULE FOR PEACEABLE CITIZENS.

If a peaceable citizen walking home at midnight is ordered to stop and throw up his hands he should comply at once.

The man may be a highwayman, and if so, he will treat the citizen with due consideration while relieving him of his valuables. But not so if he happens to be a plain clothes detective or a policeman whose uniform, perhaps, does not plainly show from a distance or from around the corner where he is standing. If the citizen wants to escape sudden death let him obey orders.

If it is a robber he will lose his goods; if it is an officer of the peace he will lose his life. He loses either way, but better his money than his life.

If John Karkulec of East St. Louis had not been frightened and excited he would have thought of all this and would not today be lying dead in a hearse. Hence the complete rule should be:

Don't get frightened, don't get excited, and throw up your hands.

Mr. Elina is in eruption, and the tourist season is just about to open.

SPEED CRANKS NEED RESTRAINT.

With the increased number of automobiles and their increased use come none of the restraints which familiarity with the dangers of excessive speed should engender. Forty-two drivers answered charges in the Police Court Monday, and the names were those of men who should have a high regard for the law and the rights and safety of pedestrians.

Every spring develops the same situation. And every spring calls for extra police activity until the lesson of decency in speed has been learned again. Many bills, some reflecting mere prejudice and some good sense, are pending in the Legislature. A few unfortunate results of speed mania will force them on the statute book. Then the motor car owners may repent at leisure.

Automobile owners are of a class whose good sense should be enough restraint. Apparently some of them want to be jailed.

AN ASTONISHING SITUATION.

The Post-Dispatch's poll of the State Legislature brought out astonishing facts. Of 175 members 105 openly say they are opposed to prohibition. Only 29 publicly admit that they favor prohibition. In the Senate list one member said he was a prohibitionist. Yet nearly two-thirds of the total membership favor the submission of the prohibition amendment.

This favorable attitude towards submission by legislators who oppose prohibition is the more astonishing in view of the evidence that a majority of the people of the State are not demanding prohibition, and will not support the amendment, if submitted. Some of the leading prohibitionists predict its defeat in the State, giving as reasons therefore:

1. That the temperance forces are divided on the wisdom of prohibition, while the anti-prohibition forces are united.
2. The loss of State revenues for which no provision is offered, and the consequent increase of the treasury deficit.
3. The destruction of industries in which capital to the amount of $100,000,000 is invested and upon which hundreds of thousands of citizens depend for employment and the means of living.
4. The popular satisfaction throughout the State with the local option laws.

All of these grounds for the belief that prohibition would be defeated in a state-wide vote embody convincing arguments against it.

The statement that the temperance advocates who are expected to support prohibition are divided in opinion as to its wisdom and practicability, some favoring local option and stringent regulation, constitutes the strongest possible ground of opposition to submission on the part of anti-prohibition legislators.

The excellent working of existing laws, the disastrous loss of industries and of revenues are unanswerable arguments against prohibition itself. When we add to them the ineffectiveness of prohibition and its demoralizing effect upon character, the case is complete.

It is the duty of public men to oppose wrong at every point. It is cowardly to yield to unwise clamor. The people have a right to expect of their representatives in the General Assembly that they stand for their convictions, that they shall not approve or give the appearance of approval to foolish and disastrous policies. They have a right to expect that legislators will not help along by their votes a proposal which they themselves believe would work irreparable injury to the commonwealth.

There ought not to be any hesitation on the part of St. Louis business men in showing the Legislature the appalling damage prohibition would inflict upon the metropolis of the State.

Such increases as have been made, says Senator Aldrich, have been largely rendered necessary to preserve the symmetry of the schedules. How childish and amateurish the Lower House is, after all!

THE PENNIES OF THE POOR.

After all, James A. Patten's winnings do not come out of the pockets of his fellow gamblers. The humble consumer, as usual, is to pay the freight. An advance of 1 cent a loaf in the price of bread has been announced by Chicago bakers. An advance in the price of wheat caused by the pit strategy of a gambler is the same in effect as if caused by a crop shortage, except the wheat grower is not the recipient of the profit.

It seems that Mr. Patten, a far-sighted, long-headed, keen-witted man, perfectly familiar with all the wiles of the trader, secured at his own expense, particular information as to the condition of the wheat crop to be harvested next summer. The gathered information made it clear to him that there would be a short enough crop to warrant higher prices for the wheat harvested last summer. Of course, this wheat is worth no more now than it was a month ago, or six months ago. But the desire of the speculators to gain possession of it was strong enough to cause, under the leadership of Patten, a large advance in price. The wheat is not in the control of the farmers who grow it, of the millers who grind it or the people who eat it, but of the gamblers who bet on its price and lead a parasitical life at the expense of the persons who have an honest use for wheat.

The gamblers have become powerful enough, for the time being, to levy tribute on the hungry mouths of the people. From the shallow purses of the poor they can take as well as from the deep purses of the rich. It is all one to them. It may happen that not only the million families within the immediate sphere of Patten's operations, but the 16,000,000 families of the nation will all contribute their daily mite to swell the gamblers' hoards. The hungry maws of starving Europe may be taxed also. Why not? Has the Government not long maintained that the taxing of the many for the benefit of the few is good business? Do we not bow down and worship good business? Do we not account James A. Patten a great man? He is gathering the pennies of the poor.

In his summer home President Taft will be surrounded on only three sides by water, thus leaving a way out in case he is charged with an ambition to get into Mr. Harriman's set.

MORE FREAK LEGISLATION.

The new civil code of the State of Washington provides that employees of hotels and public service corporations shall not solicit or accept tips and every person who shall give any gratuity shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

If this law is enforced the Pullman company will have to raise the wages of their porters or the porters will have to hide behind the constitution of the United States, that always convenient bulwark behind which individual liberty to contract takes refuge in times of persecution. Seriously, however, such freak legislation is a discredit to the legislative body which enacts it. Legislators are employed to transact the public business, not to play the part of Paul Pry or meddle with the small change jobs of porters, barbers, bootblacks and washerwomen.

The official count of the municipal election gives Edmond Koeln for Collector a plurality of only 1483 over Hagerman. Weinbrenner's plurality is 23,268. The Post-Dispatch opposed Koeln and gave Weinbrenner special commendation as an efficient and honest officer. The difference between the two pluralities is the measure of the independent vote and the influence of a courageous, independent newspaper.

Unmitigated, malleable, deliberate, impudent fabrication without a particle of foundation means nothing in French when uttered by a man whose hands are tied.

It's a funny language. The duty on stockings goes, meaning that it doesn't go.

More Drew question. Even the wind blows harder in Kansas City.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Bucket Shop Methods.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
To my letter in the pathology of the bucket-shop. "Retired Business Man" replies by stating that the bucket-shop solicits no business, often refuses trades, conduct their business honestly and, if the trader does lose money the "coin" remains in St. Louis. His argument is puerile and he may as well advocate horseracing, if honestly conducted, should the money remain in St. Louis. If the operation of a bucket-shop is a violation of the statute law of the State, they should be suppressed regardless of their method of doing business and the destination of the money.
A VICTIM.

Our Cotton Industry.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
About the only plant industry we have in the cotton manufacturing. We have special facilities in this line in the way of raw material, and we ought to supply the world with raw material. The Chinaman's blue shirt, the South American mantilla, ad libitum. Free trade and low wages, not protection, will give us the job. If England could not get the cotton, she would not be able to raise steam in her Dreadnoughts, let alone build new ones. London would become a country village and her population take to the woods with bows and arrows. We would then be the world's greatest wheat market, our living would cost a mere pittance, and we would all have work. Give the workman a full dinner pail, and a little laid aside for a rainy day, and he will not change places with a banker.

Minority Rule.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Do these figures indicate "majority rule"? Estimated population, 80,000; registered voters, 150,000; votes cast at recent election, 110,000; "stay-at-home" vote, 40,000; plurality of the highest successful candidate, 23,000. Estimating the Socialist vote at about 5,000, we have then a majority of about 15,000 over all. Eighteen thousand men deciding the municipal (political, social and economic) destinies of 80,000, which makes one man to every 44 inhabitants, surely a long way from our boasted "majority government." What are we doing to change these figures?

The Suggestive Play.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
We punish those who poison the body, but many of us are ever ready to excuse, if not praise, those who poison the moral faculty. This applies to the production and criticism of the play called "The Blue Mouse." After reading the criticisms in the various St. Louis papers, I am astonished that only one critic—the Post-Dispatch editor—has the courage or perspicacity to tell the truth about this play. I have always found Mr. Saunders generous, almost to a fault, in his criticisms, but had he said anything less severe than he did about this production of a diseased mind, I should have lost faith in drastic criticism altogether. When I see that all the other writers treat "The Blue Mouse" flippantly and even assert that it is harmless, I can only suppose that each of them is too young and inexperienced to be able to see moral danger when it is shamefully apparent.

Protect the Sick.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
A few days ago a prominent man having just undergone a serious operation in one of our best hospitals jumped out of the window when the nurse was not looking and lost his life. This is not the first time just such an accident has happened in the hospitals of St. Louis. Why are conditions at hospitals allowed to exist that permit the possibility of such a calamity? Its prevention is so simple—only iron bars across all windows on the outside. Hospitals should take the precaution of their own volition for the safety of their sick, but as they do not, a law should be passed making such protection obligatory on all institutions housing sick and irresponsible persons. Diseased bodies seldom contain healthy minds, and certain it is that disordered minds frequently accompany physical disease. Let us have barred windows on all hospitals.

Tariff and Cost of Shoes.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
As hides have been put on the free list by Congress, and the writer noted an interview which the Post-Dispatch had with Mr. Jackson Johnson of the firm of Roberts-Johnson-Rand Shoe Co. of this city, in which he states by admitting hides free into the United States the prices of shoes will be about 75 cents a pair less. The article does not state what the nature of these shoes are, whether men's, women's, boys', misses' or children's. If Mr. Johnson made this statement I am surprised. Matter-of-fact people will expect to buy shoes from their retailers from 50 cents to 75 cents less if the bill should pass in its present form by the Senate and be signed by the President. This statement will create a hardship on all salesmen as well as on all retailers. Here are the facts in the matter. The tariff at present is 15 per cent on hides. Nearly all skins, as distinct from hides, are already on the free list. From the best sources in the industry I have learned that the tariff on hides means in the cost of shoes, it must be understood that this affects specially and entirely hides from which sole leather is made—a very small percentage of imported hides going into any other use. The matter boiled down shows that in the cost of a pair of men's shoes, of good-weight bottom, it will affect the price something less than 5 cents. The opportunity for free and legitimate competition is really the great gain in removing the duty which now exists, and will insure that the prices will not go higher, but to look for shoes for less money than they are now is a mistake, especially a reduction from 50 cents to 75 cents a pair.

Independent Girl vs. Wife.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
In your Saturday's issue, "Kentucky Widow" says that the ideal home is runned through woman's love for dress, and thinks it an outrage that they should actually pay 10 to 15 for a hat. I don't think it is an outrage, if one can't get anything respectable for $4.98. She also says that the home should be a woman's palace. Palace, indeed! A girl who can earn from $15 to $25 a week in a nice, clean office, where she is respected and treated with some consideration, is certainly very foolish to get married. She can get to the office at 8:30 and probably works until 5:30 and that is the last of it. If she gets married, she can get up and get hubby a breakfast, put if he neglects to kiss her good-by, do all the housework, and sometimes scrub the steps, and is expected to smile sweetly if hubby has had a bad day downtown and has a grouse on. The independent girl can dress well, can accumulate good books, if they like to read, and at least can rest or go out on Sunday. How many wives can do the same?

TO THE FRONT.
Today the Democrats who have held the St. Louis City Hall for eight bitter years took to the free escape. The victorious people poured through the unguarded entrance, and tonight the Stars and Stripes float over the erstwhile stronghold of the wicked and the predaeous, vouchsafing Republican government.

To this end THE DAILY PARTISAN has waged a battle without parallel in the history of Journalism. Single-handed it has opposed evil and its mendacious press. Engaged upon every hand until, like Ajax, its unnumbered foes hid it from the host they did oppose.

It laid about three-armed with Truth, to emerge the more victorious in the end for that it had fought alone.

No other newspaper has ever achieved so great a triumph. All that was ignorant and yellow, base and double base, fought it victoriously every inch of the way. Only a few people read it, but those, struck by the righteousness of its cause, disseminated by word of mouth the great truths it uttered until the effect was fully as great as it would have been had THE DAILY PARTISAN been blessed with a large circulation like an afternoon paper. Emerson says: "If a man make a better book or a better basket than his fellows, the world will make a beaten path to his door, even though he live in the wilderness."

The parade passed THE DAILY PARTISAN's door this morning.

L. L. A.—All historians have been bewildered by the story concerning the early history of Japan. They generally conclude that they stand on terra firma when they arrive at the year 600 A. D., about which time occurred the greatest event of Japanese history—the introduction of the nation to Buddhism. Whether or not some detachments of the lost tribes of Israel penetrated Japan, the story is always a mooted question. In his famous lectures on the history of the Jew, Dean Stanley said the assertion "that the lost 10 tribes are concealed in some of the mountains of the earth" is a fable, with no foundation either in history or prophecy. New Zealand, the Hawaiian Islands, the first generation of exiles lived to see the fall of their conquerors and that "after the lapse of centuries to discover any distinct traces of the northern tribes." Who can say truthfully at this late date that the Jews who were noted for facing all sorts of danger in their pursuit of the Jewry, had not passed the Pacific to Japan? This statement has been made in regard to the original people of Japan. The Japanese of today are a mixed race, sprung from Mongolian immigrants, is probably the result of an indigenous population, remnants of which are still found in the islands of the Pacific. The Japanese are the result of the Mongolian and the Japanese are the result of the Mongolian and the Japanese are the result of the Mongolian.

RUBE ENTHUSIASM TO GIVE NAPS FLAG AT LAST

New Spirit Evident Among Cleveland Team Worth More Than Flick and Turner.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

NOT since Larry Lajole took command of the Cleveland baseball team has there been such a smile of confidence as he has on the eve of the start of the 1909 pennant race in the American League. King Larry and his tribe of players are in the city, all primed for the opening battle with the Browns tomorrow at Sportsman's Park, and it is seldom one has the privilege of beholding such an enthusiastic team. Cleveland has a new spirit this year and is out to win.

Three things have given this confidence to the Naps. The unexpected spurt of last season, the presence of Jim McGuire and Old Cy Young. The first has convinced the players that great things can be done; McGuire is on hand to show them how to do them, and Cy Young is present to do them. With a string of more than thirty ball-players, all in excellent condition, Lajole has no fear in beginning the big race. He has a strong pitching staff, a wonderful fielding club, heavy hitters and speedy base runners. It seems that no manager could ask more, and certainly no leader in the American League has brighter prospects at the start of the new race.

The old stars of the Cleveland club, Terry Turner and Elmer Flick, are not yet in condition and probably neither of them will be in the game at the start. Lajole isn't even worried over this, for he feels that he has capable men for their places. However, there is a strong possibility that Turner will be on the job at shortstop and performing with his old-time speed before July 1, and there is a greater possibility that Elmer Flick with his wonderful hitting, base running and fielding, will be a regular in the game again before a month of the season has passed.

With these two stars in shape, Lajole would have but to play out his string of games and walk home with the pennant, for there would be no club in the League that would class with his. Without these, he still has an excellent chance of winning, but it will be a

Turner Will Get Chance to Show if His Arm Is Recovered

THE chances are that Lajole will put Turner in the game tomorrow. The little shortstop who, two seasons back, was picked by Lajole as the superior of Bobby Wallace and Hans Wagner, has been experimenting all winter with his arm, which seems to have been injured about the shoulder. He has visited Bonometter, Rees of Youngstown, O., three different times and has never met with discouragement. He seems able to do as much as ever on shortstop, except to throw overhand. Then it seems as though something slips in his shoulder.

Where Cleveland seemed a bit weak last season, it will undoubtedly be strong this year. That is in pitching. There are eight twirlers with the club now, and any one of them is fit to pitch tomorrow's game. Addie Joss, Cy Young, "Dusty" Rhoades, Liebhart, Berger and Falkenberg are the veterans and the two recruits are Wright and Stitt.

Joss is to pitch the first game, and the tall twirler never looked more fit for battle. He is much heavier than last fall and declares he is in perfect condition. When in shape, there are few pitchers who can beat Joss, and it is a club that scores on him if his support is good. Cy Young, the grand old man of the game, is always in condition, and he will likely pitch the second game, and either Rhoades or Liebhart the third.

While Lajole is the manager of the Cleveland club, there is no doubt he is Jim McGuire is to play an important part in running the team this summer. He was taken by Cleveland last summer when Boston for some unaccountable reason dropped him from the manager's job of that club. The Naps prospered from the day that "Deacon" Jim began helping them. He wasn't actively in the game, but he was most active on the coaching lines and still more on the players' bench and in the practice. President Somers of the Cleveland club and his wife are here to see the opening game, and though he is a magnate and probably the biggest manager of the American League, outside

MOTOR NEWS AND GOSSIP

By NELSON T. GUTELIUS.

Some business men balk at the introduction of motor trucks because they do not promise an immediate economy. The horse-drawn delivery wagon was an ultimate economy, but at first it was an arrogant luxury of the more prosperous merchants. Later it augmented their business facilities so as to show a profit.

Waddell, Monologist, Makes Crowd Cheer

Rube Waddell is as original on the stage as on the ball field. The great southpaw pitcher for the Browns made his bow in vaudeville last night at the American Theater, where he is booked for each night this week and he was given an ovation such as only a ball-player can receive.

Rube appeared in picnic clothes. He wore a suit of blue, freshly shined shoes and a flaring stock of baby blue around his neck.

After reciting a poem about Reuben in a great city, he told bits of his history, how he acquired the nickname of Rube, how he began his baseball career and how he pulled the Philadelphia club out of debt and won two pennants for it. Then he pleaded to be excused for not having time to prepare more speech and bowed himself off the stage. He was recalled twice and on the third time, came to the footlights and assured the crowd that he was out to do his best to win the baseball pennant this summer for the St. Louis Browns.

It made no difference what he might say for the crowd that had gathered with him. The fans wanted to look at him and hear his voice. They didn't expect a polished act though Rube has been on the stage before.

"Many people think I got the name Rube because I was a farmer," said George Edwards. "But I never lived on a farm. I was born in the oil country of Pennsylvania. I began pitching down there and my first manager started calling me Rube and the name has always stuck by me."

"I have struck out more ballplayers than any other pitcher, as history will show. In 1902, I began pitching for the Philadelphia club of the American League. I didn't join the team until June, and it was in fifth place and $15,000 in the hole. I struck out over 300

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

When the blood becomes infected with the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, the symptoms are soon manifested. The mouth and throat ulcerate, copper-colored spots appear, a red rash breaks out, the hair begins to come out, and usually sores and ulcers show themselves on different parts of the body. At the first sign of the disease S.S.S. should be taken, for the trouble is too powerful and dangerous to trifle with. If allowed to run on the tendency is to work down and attack the bones and nerves, and sometimes it makes a complete physical wreck of the sufferer. The disease can make no such headway if S.S.S. is commenced and used according to directions; its progress can be stopped, the poison removed, and health preserved. S.S.S. goes into the blood and removes the insidious virus, cleanses the circulation and makes a complete and permanent cure by driving out the cause. S.S.S. quickly takes effect on the blood, and gradually the symptoms disappear, the health is improved, the skin cleared of all spots, sores and blemishes, and when S.S.S. has thoroughly purified the circulation no trace of the disease is left. S.S.S. is a purely vegetable remedy, cures Contagious Blood Poison because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, tested and proven for more than forty years. Home treatment book and any medical advice free.

THE S.S.S. CO., ATLANTA, GA.

WRAY'S COLUMN.

ON the eve of the principal opening of the baseball season, supposing we choose to look at the games of yesterday in the light of a mere preliminary, there are plenty of hard luck screams being lifted from both the National and American forces.

Napoleon Lajole deplores the troubles of Flick and Turner, and it seems these gentlemen might as well be again eliminated from the Naps' hopes; Chicago White Sox lack their keystone, Fielder Jones; Detroit is bemoaning the apparent futility that accompanies Killian's effort to get into condition; the Browns suffer seriously from that kink in Howie's arm; more radical afflictions all New York and Boston; while Washington and Philadelphia have players sick or out of the regular line-up.

In the National League Chance loses Killian and now it appears that Sheppard's leg is gone; New York will miss Brennan and Donlin poignantly; Pittsburgh has been unable to bolster up that first base department, and that water-bearer (on paper) Spade, continues to annoy Griffith by refusing to join the Reds. Troubles on the part of the other clubs hardly worry anyone save the managers.

Can't Be All Sunshine.

BUT after all it is seldom a club can go through a season without sustaining some setback in an almost vital part. The fact that most of the clubs start the season with a complaint to register reduces them to a common level, and gives none any particular advantage of the other.

The Browns and the Tigers start the season exceptionally. In fact, the Tigers seem so good, at the present time, that the backwardness of Killian amounts to little. Jennings' new pitchers have shown satisfactorily and if there was ever a time when the club looked good, relatively to the strength of the other rival clubs, it is at the present. In fact, the prime condition of the team has led many to believe that the Tigers will make a runaway race of it.

In the Pink—Eh, What?

BUT the Browns ought to be there tomorrow if physical condition counts. There is no character home in the outfield, no rheumatism in the inner works, no weakness behind the bat. The men are sound, as contrasted with the decrepit aggregation which started East on the trip that was to decide the team's fate last year. Then the pitchers were through—all done for the year, except Waddell; Williams had a leg that would not let him either run or field his best; Schweitzer, who had been leading the team in hitting, could not be used without being returned to the hospital; Stone was jaundiced the color of a lemon, both in countenance and in work. If improved physical condition means better results, McAlleer ought to get them. So let's not complain too much just because Howell will be out of the early running three weeks or so.

More Heroes, Less Worship.
ATTORNEY SULLIVAN will make an acceptable substitute for Fielder Jones as leader of the White Sox. Sullivan was probably a good deal of the team's brains, even during the regime of Fielder the Great, despite the adulation heaped upon this gentleman. Doesn't it strike one that too much importance is accorded to some of the individuals of baseball, and not enough to the team? The Chances, Jones, Cobbe, Wagners and so on are supposed to be so much a part of the club's success the club cannot replace them. Possibly a player of exactly the qualifications may not be obtainable, but no man ever lived on any job who could not be acceptably succeeded. McGraw has dared to do without Donlin, and likely McGraw will make good.

Even in these grab-all times it is hard to get away from a little hero-worshiping. For want of other opportunity, we take it with our baseball.

Second Division Stronger.
WASHINGTON'S good start was anticipated. In fact, it is expected on nearly every hand that this club will continue to do well. Cleveland will doubtless look with awe on the success of the Cantillon aggregation. For it was this same Wash-

Cardinals Surprise Toledo Fans in Game; Last Exhibition Billed for Today.

TOLEDO, O., April 12.—The St. Louis Cardinals are booked for one more exhibition game against the Toledo slug-gers, and tonight they will travel over to Chicago, keen for the opening game of the National League race against the Chicago Cubs. After winning from the Toledo club in such decisive manner yesterday, the score being 8 to 1, fans at this town cannot see where many of the big league clubs are better than Bresnahan's lively boys. They had never witnessed a game with mere action, and as this is Roger's home town, everyone is predicting a great future for him as a manager.

The Cardinals were a surprise on the bases. They showed even more speed than the Detroit club, which played here only a few days ago.

Pitcher Rhodes is billed to do the work for the St. Louis team today, and Johnny Lush is to take a light workout on the side lines, so his arm will be properly prepared for the opening game in Chicago tomorrow.

JAILER PREVENTS SUICIDE OF MAN SENTENCED TO PRISON

Tailor Who Shot His Wife Tells Guard That Death Is Preferable to Penitentiary.

Isadore Phillips, the tailor, who shot his wife, Ida, after she had him arrested for disturbing her peace, tried to hang himself in a jail cell Monday evening after a jury in Judge Shields' court had decided his punishment at five years in the penitentiary.

"I'd rather be dead than go to prison," said he, after Guard John Allen had cut the noose which he had fastened about his neck.

Phillips shot his wife in the head in front of their home, 143 Old Manchester road, Feb. 5, and then tried to shoot himself.

He was in a state of melancholia when he returned to jail Monday evening after the jury in his case had returned a verdict. He would not eat the meal which was set in front of him at 5:30 p. m. and at 6 p. m. when Guard Allen was passing the cell, Phillips was engaged in tying the end of a bed sheet about his neck, the other end having been tied to the top bars of his cell.

Allen lost no time in getting the cell door open. He struggled with Phillips and finally managed to cut the rope.

Dr. Hauck examined Phillips and advised that he be removed to the City Hospital to prevent his making any further attempt to end his life.

If you have a friend suffering from eczema, tell us about it the next time you are in the store.
Many eczema sufferers have tried so many useless remedies and spent so much money with doctors that they practically despair. If they only knew of the simplest home cure for eczema, it is nothing more than oil of wintergreen compound (as mixed in D. D. D. Prescription).

Used with glycerine, thymol and other healing ingredients in liquid form, this simple remedy penetrates the pores of the skin, killing the eczema germs while toning up the healthy part of the skin.

If you will suggest to your friend afflicted with eczema to call, we shall be glad to explain to any sufferer about D. D. D. Prescription.

"JACK STRAW" IS DELIGHTFUL FOR HEALTHY COMEDY

It Gives John Drew a Whimsical Role, Bringing Out His Best Work.

A CLEVER COMPANY

New-Maugham Play of English Life Pleases Brilliant Olympic Audience.

PLAYGOERS' GUIDE.

OLYMPIC—John Drew in "Jack Straw." Delightfully entertaining comedy, brilliantly played.

GARRICK—"The Blue Mouse." Coarse and offensive farce comedy. Its fun based on almost unrestrained suggestiveness.

CENTURY—"The Traitor." Weak and impossible melodrama, with an appeal to race prejudice rather than art, presented by a fairly capable company.

ODEON—Lambardi Grand Opera company, in repertoire. "La Traviata" sung last night. No performance tonight. "La Boheme" Wednesday evening.

GRAND—Tonight, "Wine, Woman and Song." Return engagement of popular musical comedy, brightly presented. Nat Carr divides honors with star.

IMPERIAL—Tonight, "Poynter and her stock company" in "The Girl of the Golden West." Big Belasco melodrama effectively presented. Star and her support alike satisfying.

HAVLIN'S—"Too Proud to Beg." Thrilling heart-interest melodrama, well played. Reichardt children in real stars.

NEW COLUMBIA—Bright vaudeville bill, with Grayce Scott, dainty musical comedienne, as its topliner.

AMERICAN—Entertaining vaudeville bill, with "Rube" Waddell, the famous pitcher, baseball monologue, as headliner.

STANDARD—Empire Burlesques. Burlesque and vaudeville.

GAYETY—Night Owls Burlesques. Burlesque and vaudeville.

ONE of the incidental delights of "Jack Straw," the delicate English comedy by W. Somerset Maugham, in which John Drew began a week's engagement before a brilliant audience at the Olympic last night, is the keen relish with which Mr. Drew plays the title role.

Evidently the part appeals to the Drew sense of drollery with irresistible magnetism, and, as a result, it shows Mr. Drew himself at his very best. Jack Straw is a whimsical, lovable sort of chap, in reality the young Prince of Pomerania, temporarily in the bad graces of his imperial grandfather, therefore drifting about the world "in mufti" and having a lot of fun born of his tolerant contemplation of human weakness.

That social phase of human weakness which leads us to scorn the lowly in station and to fawn upon the mighty is particularly amusing to Jack Straw, and it is because of this fact that he consents to play a salutary joke upon the parvenu Parker-Jennings, ceasing to be a writer in the swaggy London hotel where they had humiliated certain good friends of his, and becoming, instead, a supposed bogus Prince of Pomerania, genuine in reality, however, for the purpose of making them the laughing-stock of English society.

Just how this exquisite little comedy of a real prince masquerading as himself turns out in the last act is the big surprise of an evening's entertainment, a surprise so refreshing that it would be hard to resist the temptation of taking from Mr. Drew and his associate players their rightful privilege of themselves telling the completed story across the footlights.

This I can't do—I enjoyed "Jack Straw" too acutely myself to deprive anyone else of the opportunity of realizing its fullest possibilities in this direction.

Mr. Drew's Delightful Work in Title Role.

Mr. Drew plays the title role with exquisite finesse. Himself one of the most brilliant masculine figures in polo, in a certain delicate suavity, and in appreciation of fine comedy, on the American stage, there is a certain kind of cynicism in his own soul, so to speak, that finds its exact expression in Jack Straw's fantastic moods and impulses. It is not at all an easy character to interpret—the masquerading prince is a delightfully Bohemian vagrant at heart, yet invariably the high-bred gentleman of stainless deportment—and I can't recall any other player on our stage today who could do with it quite all that is done by the excellent Frohman star now at the Olympic.

I do not remember better stage fun than Jack Straw's almost malicious and always exasperatingly intense savoring of the sport of making the new-rich British plutocrats reveal themselves at their shoddy worst. He is especially satisfying in this respect in his scenes with Mrs. Parker-Jennings herself, a role so finely played by the highly competent Miss Rose Coghlan as at many moments to divide honors with that of Mr. Drew's own playing. It was the best fun set on the Olympic stage for many a long year—last night's audience smiled and chuckled and laughed and applauded from start to finish, surveying the story's clever development all ways through twinkling eyes and leavens Manager Short's playhouse therewith with so good a taste of clean comedy in the mouth as to call for lasting gratitude of the most genuine fervor.

Rose Coghlan Wins New Honors.

As I have already intimated, Miss Coghlan's portrayal of the "social climber" role of Mrs. Parker-Jennings, a sort of present-day Mrs. Malaprop, is one of the admirable features of the production. It is, in reality, one of the most satisfying bits of creative work in the lighter vein that I have ever seen. The actress brings to it her rich native gifts, her admirable training, the fullest congeniality of temperament. She is, for the time being, the absurd feminine creation of sudden wealth conceived by the author, yet showing us the least likable aspect of such a character, she at the same time reveals the truth that, underneath its pettiness and ignominious phases, there are certain good and likable traits that commend it to us at the last. Miss Coghlan is to be congratulated upon her achievement of the present season—it is more than abreast of her excellent work in past years.

The company as a whole is excellent. I like especially the Ethel Jennings of Miss Mary Boland, the young "bouncer" Vincent Jennings of Mr. Edward Nicander, the Mr. Parker-Jennings of E. Soldene Powell, the Lord Serio of Mr. Frank Goldsmith and the Ambrose Holland of Mr. Edgar L. Davenport. The play itself has a gossamer foundation, but its plot is skilfully erected, the interest finely sustained, the surprise at the close forcibly projected, and the brilliancy and sparkle of its quaint wit is at all times notable.

BRIGHT BILL AT COLUMBIA.
The tabloid version of Divorcees, as played by Grayce Scott and her clever company at the New Columbia this week, retains all the substance and interest of the original play. Miss Scott is a charming little comedienne, who makes an ideal cyrenne, and Albert Perry as the husband is no less interesting. The bill as a whole is unusually bright. Mile. de Dio, the Parisian danseuse, has some remarkably pretty effects in dances and tableaux; W. C. Fields is one of the cleverest of comedy jugglers. Cooper and Robinson, colored comedians, do some good singing and comedy work; the Louise Schmidt Operatic Trio sing the prison scene from "Faust"; Gus Hibbert and Fred Warren do some original eccentric dancing. Bartholme's cockatoos, Kathryn Rowe Palmer and the Kinetoscope complete the bill.

GOOD BILL AT AMERICAN.
"Rube" Waddell is the big added feature at the American Theater this week that draws top-line honors for popularity. And he can tell a story as well as he can pitch a ball. His talk is of an informal character of his experiences on and off the ball field and was a genuine delight to his admirers. Harry Bulger has a pleasing sketch in "He Was a Soldier, Too," the Sisters Athletas are clever and graceful gymnasts, and there are a number of other acts that give a pleasing variety to the bill.

The legitimate PAID circulation of the Post-Dispatch in St. Louis and its suburbs is greater than that of ALL other English Dailies COMBINED.

WINDOW SMASHER GRABS DIAMONDS VALUED AT $2000

Stone Hurlled Through Glass as East St. Louis Merchant Was Closing Up.

PAWNSHOP IS ROBBED

Second Crime Results in Booty Worth $1000 for Discriminating Burglars.

While policemen and detectives were hunting up and down Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis, for the negro window smasher who took $2000 worth of diamond rings from C. G. Derleth's store, robbers carried away a wagon load of clothing, hats, watches and revolvers valued at $1000 from Paul Kahn's pawnshop, a block and a half east of Derleth's.

The robbery of Kahn's place became known early Tuesday, when the proprietor, going to the store at 114 Collinsville avenue, found the floor strewn with the valuable of his goods, which the discriminating burglars had thrown aside in choosing the better articles.

Kahn, who closed his place at 9 p. m., Monday, believes that the robbers entered soon after that hour, while excitement over the bold attack on Derleth's jewelry store at 227 Collinsville avenue was at its height.

Window Smashed With Stone.

Derleth and two of his clerks were still in the store when, just at 8 p. m., a paving block, a paving block, wrapped in a wet newspaper, crashed through the plate glass front window. It was hurled with such violence that it went through the mirror which separated the display window from the store, and fell in the middle of the room.

At the same instant a negro's hand was thrust through the jagged opening and was withdrawn clutching a tray of the costliest rings in Derleth's stock. There were 12 rings on the tray, but one had been jolted off by the crash of the stone or was dropped off in the thief's haste, so that only 11 were taken.

The store, in the business center, is near the police station, and the detectives usually patrol the street at night until the jewelry stores and pawnshops have closed. They were not out Monday night, because the rain apparently kept everyone off the street, and there seemed to be nothing to do.

Burglar Escaped Over Fence.

The officers were at the place within a few minutes, and persons who had seen the negro's flight told Detective Tony Stocker that he had climbed a fence which shuts in the excavation for a new six-story office building.

Climbing the fence, Stocker saw a sheer 25-foot drop on the other side. "If he jumped it I can," said Stocker, and let drop. He went into the soft clay almost up to his knees, but pulled himself out and made his way across the deep hole, but found no trace of the negro.

Derleth had burglar insurance, but was unable to collect anything on his loss, as his policy requires him to look up his diamonds at sundown.

Kahn's pawnshop was entered by the removal of a panel from a rear door. The plunder, the pick of his stock, included 25 pairs of clothes, 25 overcoats, 50 revolvers, 40 hats, 12 gold watches and two violins.

SIX MEN FIGHT NEGRO WHO STOLE HORSE AND CAB

Afterward It Requires All Policemen at Station to Put Him in Cell.

George Kenie, a negro, led a harnessed horse into the livery stable of E. A. Silex, 104 North Third street, East St. Louis, Monday afternoon, and offered it for sale. The horse was docketed and looked as if it had been driven to a cab. Silex suspected that it had been stolen.

After some bargaining he gave Kenie his check for $11 for the horse and harness and had it put in a stall. Then he took the negro to the saloon of John Ryan, on Third street, near the station, and bought him a drink. While Kenie was trying to cash the check Silex went to the Police Station and returned to the saloon with Detective Tony Stocker, who told Kenie he was under arrest.

Seeing that the game was up, Kenie started to fight, and it took Stocker, Ryan and Silex, with the assistance of three other men, to drag the pugnacious negro to the station.

There he refused to be searched, and gave all the policemen in the station a battle to the door of the cell into which he was thrown, much battered, but still full of fight. His captors were also severely bruised.

After he had somewhat regained his composure, Kenie confessed that he had stolen the horse in St. Louis, where it was attached to a cab. He had disposed of the cab before he sold the horse. He would not say where he got the horse and cab, nor tell to whom it belonged.

PAWNSHOP IS ROBBED

Second Crime Results in Booty Worth $1000 for Discriminating Burglars.

While policemen and detectives were hunting up and down Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis, for the negro window smasher who took $2000 worth of diamond rings from C. G. Derleth's store, robbers carried away a wagon load of clothing, hats, watches and revolvers valued at $1000 from Paul Kahn's pawnshop, a block and a half east of Derleth's.

The robbery of Kahn's place became known early Tuesday, when the proprietor, going to the store at 114 Collinsville avenue, found the floor strewn with the valuable of his goods, which the discriminating burglars had thrown aside in choosing the better articles.

Kahn, who closed his place at 9 p. m., Monday, believes that the robbers entered soon after that hour, while excitement over the bold attack on Derleth's jewelry store at 227 Collinsville avenue was at its height.

$1000 BILL IN CHURCH COLLECTION A COUNTERFEIT

Prevalence of Similar Spurious Currency Leads to Belief That Gang Is at Work.

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 12.—The discovery that the $1000 bill found in a collection plate of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Roscoe, this county, a week ago, was a spurious note has led the authorities to the conclusion that a gang of counterfeiters is operating in this section and sending out "phony" bills of large denomination.

Who gave the bill is not known to the church officials.

It was learned tonight that bills of like character, but smaller, have been put into circulation at Belle Vernon and West Brownsville, a few miles up the Monongahela River, above Roscoe.

Any member who is not shaved on Sunday is fined a penny and a member who introduces a friend is fined if the latter swears.

COMMUTER WHO WAS BEST STORY TELLER IS BURIED

John F. Randall Had Been Entertaining Fellow Passengers Since 1882.

WAS A DUCK HUNTER

Many of Alton Man's Amusing Narratives Were Told "On" Himself.

John F. Randall, the oldest continuous commuter between Alton and St. Louis, having "commuted" since 1882, for 27 years on the Burlington and for the past 10 years on the Big Four Flyer, was buried from his home in Alton Tuesday afternoon.

Fellow-commuters pronounced Mr. Randall the most entertaining storyteller on the train. The veteran, who was just as jolly at 72 as at 45, always had a train-seat audience that wanted more stories. Hunting stories were his specialty. Mr. Randall being an inveterate hunter. Like Grover Cleveland, who died at the same age, duck shooting was his favorite pastime.

Mr. Randall used to tell this duck story with relish:

"One time three of us went to Grassy Lake for ducks. The other two men were crack shots. We lay down behind a fence right on the edge of the lake. Thirty or forty ducks were swimming within 15 feet of us. We agreed that the best shot in the party should have the first whack, while the ducks were swimming; the second best shot was to have second chance, as the surviving ducks rose from the water; then, if any ducks were left alive, the third man could shoot."

Audience Would Grow. By this time a dozen men would quit their seats and gather around Mr. Randall to hear how many ducks got away—if any.

"Well, we all fired in our respective turns," Mr. Randall would say, "and not a duck was hit."

Mr. Randall was a very religious man. He served as superintendent of the Baptist Sunday-school for years. One of his stories, which was "on himself," ran like this:

"One Saturday I went out to the lake and shot 40 ducks. Now, 40 ducks, as you know, make quite a visible load. You can't conceal 40 ducks on your person, and you can't conceal the gun you shoot 'em with, either. I was expected to return by train Saturday night, so as to be ready bright and early for Sunday school. But I missed the train and had to stay over night at a farmhouse."

"Sunday morning I caught a train, having arranged for a carriage to meet me at the Alton station. Carriages must have been in demand, for they sent me a saddle horse. There was nothing for me to do but swing my 40 ducks across my saddle, put my gun under my arm, and ride home; and in order to get home in time to reach Sunday school I had to ride right past the church, where the children were gathering for the service."

It was very embarrassing, he said, but seemed to bother him more than it did anybody else.

The Train That Went Back. Every now and then in the past 20 years, when the commuters' train happened to be late or slow or stopped between stations for some reason or other, impatient passengers complained. Mr. Randall would tell his auditors this one:

"Along in '83 or thereabout, when we traveled up and down on the Burlington, one evening our train, bound for Alton, ran into a southbound train and was derailed. The windows were shattered and we were shaken up a little, but nobody was hurt—except the train, which had to lie there all night. It was near Spanish Lake. Some of us slept in the train, hoping it would pull out and take us home. Others engaged beds at farmhouses."

"The morning came the train was still there, like the Star-Spangled Banner. We didn't get home at all—train simply turned around and took us back to business in St. Louis."

Mr. Randall's story of the cow that captured the Big Four bridge, near East Alton 10 years ago, always served to calm down the new commuter who complained when the train stopped where it shouldn't.

"We were coming down smoothly one day," he would say, "when all of a sudden the train stopped at a bridge approach. We looked from the window and saw a cow peacefully chewing her cud midway on the bridge. Our engineer was not made to catch cows on a bridge, so the engineer refused to budge."

Bossy Held the Bridge. We went ahead, however, with other members of the crew, and tried to chase Bossy off. Then they tried to coax her off. But she held the bridge.

"We saw ourselves getting down to business mighty late. A council of war was held among the commuters. Somebody suggested getting some ears of corn to use as coaxers. It was a bright idea. We got the corn, but the cow wouldn't come to it."

Finally, in sheer desperation, some of the bravest of our band went forward, surrounded the enemy, picked her up bodily, despite her kicking and mooing, and carried her in triumph off the bridge."

Mr. Randall was fond of telling stories of his war experiences. He marched through Georgia with Sherman, much of the time footsore and weary, carrying his shoes in his hand because going barefoot was painful. Several members of Ransom Post, G. A. R., went up from St. Louis to attend the funeral, some of them serving as pallbearers.

One of the strongest traits of Mr.

Randall was his sense of sympathy for others. Whenever a commuter would speak disparagingly of anybody, Mr. Randall would say:

"Oh, now, don't say that about him. Put yourself in his place. Any one of us might do worse under the same circumstances, you know."

The old commuter, who was senior member of the Martin Collins Insurance Co. in St. Louis, was known as a most particular man in his correspondence. He dictated his letters to a stenographer, and if a comma or an apostrophe was left out of the place where it belonged, the typewriter had an extra job.

Perfect imitation typewriter letters get the orders—poor ones get left. Call up Stillwell, 709 Pine; both phones.

WILL CONFER ON THROUGH ROUTE

Traffic Director Comes to Arrange for Frisco-St. Louis Trains.

J. C. Stubbs of Chicago, chief traffic director for the Harriman railroads, arrived in St. Louis Tuesday morning to confer with Wabash Railroad officials on the Union Pacific-Wabash arrangement to run through trains from St. Louis to San Francisco.

This service, which was to have been established April 4, was postponed to April 25 because the equipment department could not supply enough steel coaches for the trains. Mr. Stubbs is at the Jefferson Hotel.
